

Generating a group by coset representatives

Peter Cameron

Vivek Jain asked whether, when G is a finite group and H is a core-free subgroup of G , it is possible to generate G by a set of coset representatives of H in G . The answer is yes: the proof uses a result of Julius Whiston about the maximal size of an independent set in the symmetric group.